DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 27, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 11-14, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Morikawa et al (US 5,173,893). In figure 2, Morikawa et al shows a disk-transferring device for a disk drive including moving unit 9a/9b for being contacted to one surface of disk 101/106 and rotated by the force of a driving source for moving disk 101/106.

Figure 9 shows balance guide unit 13 for guiding an inserted disk for thereby precisely inserting disk 101/106. Holder guide unit 15 is connected with balance guide unit 13 and is operated by operation of unit 13 for guiding disk 101/106 moved by moving unit 9a/9b and guiding disk 101/106 unit disk transfer is finished.

Figure 9 also shows selection guide unit 42 that is connected with holder guide unit 15 for positioning disk 101/106 according to the size of the inserted disk. Figure 9 also shows holder guide unit 15 and selection guide unit 42 receiving the driving force separated from disk 101/106 from the driving source when the disk transfer is finished.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 2652

6. Claims 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morikawa et al (US 5,173,893) in view of Agostini (US 4,674,079). Morikawa et al discloses the claimed invention. However, Morikawa et al is silent as to a rack gear for the driving plate.

Agostini shows in figure 9 a driving plate 3 with a rack gear.

It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Morikawa et al with a driving plate having a rack gear as taught by Agostini. The rationale is as follows: one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have been motivated to provide a driving plate with a rack gear to provide a secure driving connection for the transfer sensor.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed June 27, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant asserts in the third full paragraph on page 7 that "the arm lock mechanism 59 is not operated by the centering arm 13". As stated above, holder guide unit 15, element 15 not element 59, is operated by balance guide unit 13 for precisely inserting the disk. It also should be noted that selection guide unit 42 is connected, via arm lock mechanism 59 and balance guide unit 13, to holder guide unit 15 for positioning the disk according to size of the disk.
